

CLASSICALITE

News, Commentary on Classical Music, Jazz, Theater, Dance & More

Blogarrhea: A Mountain of Adventurous Music Waiting to be Scaled

Sep 27, 2016 07:32 PM EDT | Mike Greenblatt (m.greenblatt@classicalite.com)

(Photo : courtesy New Harpo Records)

Backtrack Blues Band brings it 'Way Back Home.'

Also heartily recommended is Way Back Home (Harpo Records) by the Backtrack Blues Band. They cover Sonny Boy Williamson's "Your Funeral My Trial" with the rampaging electric guitar soloing of Kid Royal (they may be from Florida, but the Kid's hero chops are straight out of Texas). Singer/Songwriter Sonny Charles blows a bad-ass blues-harp. He's the same dude who started the nationally known Tampa Bay Blues Festival, now in its 11th year. His songs-especially "Tell Your Daddy," "Shoot My Rooster" and "Heavy Built Woman"-are funky and funny. They even do Irish rock band Thin Lizzy's "Baby Please Don't Go" (not to be confused with the 1935 Big Joe Williams blues song).